Objective of project

- Create a college web portal.
- Demonstrate interlinking of web pages
- Demonstrate use of css and javascript.

Scope of Project

The program for creation of website requires html document where content of website is written and even it includes CSS styling and java scripting. The program involves interlinking of many webpages which can be opened by clicking on links present on home page.

Important points about project :

1. Illustrates interlinking of web pages
    - Interlinking of web pages helps user to navigate through entire website which helps the user to know about the college in detail
    - It also reduce website bounce rate
    - It increase ranking for particular keyword and many more…
2. Illustrates use of CSS, Javascript etc for a web page.

Software Used : Brackets

Brackets is an open-source, modern text editor crafted for web developers and front-end developers. This app simplifies the process of coding, allowing coders to share their work through various platforms. It is a lightweight yet powerful development tool that blends visual tools into the editor so you can get the help that you want without limiting your creative process.

Clean and User-Friendly Interface

The Brackets app has been specifically designed for working in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. It comes with a crisp, clean interface to make sure that tools wouldn't get in your way. It has a Quick Edit UI which puts context-specific code and tools inline instead of cluttering up your coding environment.

Brackets provides several features including:

- Quick Edit
- Quick Docs
- Live Preview
- JSLint
- LESS support
- Open source
- Extensibility

The advanced Features of brackets made us to use this software for our project.

Conclusion

In this project we learnt creating a website using HTML and CSS for content in styling, we have also used angular js and made use of form validation.

In total in this project we demonstrated the working of search engine for the college portal but, only front end is implemented here. The back end should be worked on to store the information of multiple student details.
